ADVANCE-ing Women in the Sciences through ADAPP

Please join NSCL and Provost Kim Wilcox for a discussion about MSU’s NSF-funded ADVANCE initiative, Advancing Diversity through the Alignment of Policies and Practices (ADAPP). ADAPP-ADVANCE is purposed to strengthen the scientific workforce through increased inclusion of women in careers involving science, technology, engineering and mathematics, and across all disciplines.

Additional remarks by ADAPP-ADVANCE co-PIs:

Terry Curry
Associate Provost and Associate Vice President, Academic Human Resources

Estelle McGroarty
Associate Vice President for Budget Planning, Research and Graduate Studies

Tamara Reid Bush
Assistant Professor, Department of Mechanical Engineering

Clare Luz
Assistant Professor, Department of Family Medicine

Mark Roehling
Associate Professor, School of Human Resources and Labor Relations

Thursday, February 3, 11 a.m. - 12 p.m.
1415 Biomedical & Physical Sciences followed by a light lunch until 1 p.m. in the BPS Atrium

Women and Minorities in Science Lecture Series